6 Inside the Action

Meet our team

HELLO
MY NAME IS

Hanadi Al Moubayed
Child Life II

Please describe your role and responsibilities within the organization.

My role as a Child Life Specialist is to support children and their families during challenging medical experiences, such as hospitalizations, surgeries, or chronic illnesses. My primary responsibility is to help children cope with the stress and anxiety associated with medical procedures by using therapeutic play, education, and emotional support. I also provide guidance to families, foster communication between children, parents, and healthcare teams, and advocate for the child's developmental and emotional needs within the healthcare setting.

What's the most rewarding part of your job?

The most rewarding part of being a Child Life Specialist is witnessing the resilience and growth of children as they overcome fear and anxiety in difficult medical situations. Helping a child find comfort through play, education, or emotional support, and seeing their confidence and coping skills improve, is incredibly fulfilling. Additionally, building meaningful relationships with families and knowing that my work has brought comfort and hope during challenging times is deeply gratifying.

What do you find most challenging in your role, and how do you overcome it?

The most challenging part of being a Child Life Specialist is managing the emotional intensity of working with children and families in crisis or facing serious illness. Witnessing their distress, fear, or pain, especially in end-of-life situations, can be heartbreaking. Balancing support for the child and their family while maintaining professional boundaries is also difficult. - To cope, I prioritize self-care, seek support from colleagues, and engage in debriefing sessions or mindfulness practices. Focusing on the positive impact of my work helps me maintain emotional resilience.

When you're not at work, what are your favorite hobbies or activities?

When I'm not at work, I cherish spending time with my family, enjoying games and meaningful moments together. I am currently on a journey to memorize the Qur'an, which brings me peace and fulfillment. I also have a passion for reading a variety of books, taking leisurely walks, and connecting with friends to socialize and unwind.

Share something with us that not so many people know about you.

I sometimes have full conversations with myself when I'm trying to solve a problem or make a decision. It feels like having my own personal brainstorming session, and I even catch myself laughing at my own jokes during these moments!

Share a favorite quote or motto that you live by.

I live by the principle in the second verse of Surah At-Talaq: "And whoever fears Allah - He will make for him a way out and will provide for him from where he does not expect."

HELLO
MY NAME IS

Rami Osama
Senior Pharmacist

Please describe your role and responsibilities within the organization.

As a pharmacist at a children's palliative care hospital, my primary responsibility is to ensure the safe and effective use of medications for our young patients. I collaborate closely with doctors, nurses, and caregivers to develop tailored treatment plans, manage complex medication regimens, and provide education on drug usage and potential side effects. My role also involves staying updated on the latest pharmaceutical advancements to provide the best possible care.

What's the most rewarding part of your job?

The most rewarding part of my job is knowing that the work I do contributes to improving the quality of life for children and their families during challenging times. Helping to manage pain and symptoms effectively and seeing the relief it brings is incredibly fulfilling.

What do you find most challenging in your role, and how do you overcome it?

One of the most challenging aspects is managing the emotional toll that comes with caring for children with life-limiting conditions. To overcome this, I focus on the positive impact I can make and rely on the support of my colleagues. Regular team discussions and self-care practices also help me maintain resilience.

When you're not at work, what are your favorite hobbies or activities?

Outside of work, I love watching football, traveling, and spending quality time with my family and friends. These activities help me relax, recharge, and create memorable experiences.

Share something with us that not so many people know about you.

I'm a huge fan of the TV series Friends and know everything about it. I've watched it countless times and can quote entire episodes!
